Training skills centre in Southampton

LEADING national training provider for mature career changers, New Careers Skills, has teamed up with Apprenticeship Training Ltd to open what is believed to be the largest private skills training centre of its kind in the UK in Hedge End, Southampton.

Bringing new jobs and businesses to the area, as well as helping solve the current skills shortage issue that is facing the South and the rest of the country, the new centre that provides plumbing and electric courses stands at 10,000ft² and has the capacity to train 100 individuals at any one time.

The live environment of the centre means that as trainees follow the course through theory and practical sessions and they do it in the best environment.

Training bays filled with fully functional basins, toilets, baths and showers all with running water provide the most realistic training frames possible.

'We are delighted to join ATL on this venture and bring such a landmark facility to Southampton,' says founder of New Career Skills, Tim Adderson.

'We are committed to help fill the skills shortage and this high capacity training centre will make a large contribution to the trades industry,' he adds.
